Mr. Carlson said he thoroughly understands and I think he probably felt, well, at ease with what it is that I'm going to do. But I've had the opportunity, while sitting on the Agriculture Committee and on the Judiciary Committee, to be regaled by two of the Governor's appointments...appointees. A gentleman came before the Judiciary Committee and I was questioning him about whether the Governor would sign a bill that related to juvenile services. And he had indicated that if the bill required only a reasonable increase over the Governor's budget, yes, the Governor would go for it. I read in the paper, I didn't get a copy of the letter, that before that day was over, the Governor had written a letter or somebody did saying that's not true. That's not what's going to happen, that each bill is going to be reviewed on its merits. I guess something like that, that's what these letters usually say. I am wondering if it would have been a white woman or a black person, male or female, who had been appointed to head an agency and had blundered like that in talking to a committee, whether it would have just been smoothed over and nothing would have been said about it? But people tend to stick together when they have a lot in common. Old Satan said when he and God were discussing what they were going to do with Job, J-o-b, one of God's servants, and God said, well, go and do whatever you want to do with him; he will not turn away from me. So Satan was allowed to wipe out his family, kill off all his sheep, and cows, and goats, and all that. Then Satan said, look, skin for skin; all that a man has will he give for his life. So God then said, do whatever you want to with him, put your hand on him, but don't kill him. So Job had all these boils, blisters, bumps, and whatnot, that was his reward for serving God faithfully, and he wasn't let in on the secret. So I say this, skin for skin, people who are similarly situated, who have a lot in common, will stick together. So maybe what some of these white men are doing is embarrassing and that is why the media don't cover it. When I say media don't cover it, media is a plural word. I read in this mornings paper where the Governor's people, the superior white males, including the Governor, didn't get the word out that the President had indicated that flags were to be flown at half-staff for the death of King Hussein of Jordan, a man, by the way, who had received subsidies for years from the CIA. So before Senator Hilgert gets upset at the flag being flown at half-staff for him, he should realize that that man was a paid
